The Harvest

2023 Changes

Membership Renewal

Effective for your 2023 membership renewal, The Harvest Golf Club has made the decision; all correspondence will be sent electronically also using SignNow for your application. This will make sure that renewal package information will reach you irrespective of your location.

Historically, THGC has sent membership renewals via traditional mail. We believe this platform will modernize and simplify your renewal process, and hopefully, to your convenience. This will eliminate the possibility of long delays in reception that some of you may have previously experienced, also making sure anyone leaving early to travel south for the winter will have complete access to the renewal package for you to review, making the overall process more painless and expedient. The complete membership renewal package will be emailed on Monday, October 17th. The initial deadline, including prizes, is Wednesday, November 30th, with all pricing and pertinent information will be included in your email. With the final renewal deadline set for Wednesday, February 1st.

The process will be as follows.

End of Season

October 22nd
Ironman
Tournament
Day 1

October 23rd
Ironman
Tournament

On Monday, October 17th, you will receive three emails in succession.

1. The initial email will include a letter and attachments with all pertinent information/pricing for your 2023 membership renewal.

2. Simultaneously, the second email correspondence will include the fillable membership form from SignNow. This form is easy to complete, with a step-by-step process prompting you to completion.

3. The third email and final email will be to notify you that your package has been sent and hopefully received. (If you are planning an email change or prefer your package sent to an alternative email address, please let us know immediately, so all pertinent information reaches you in a timely fashion)

After you submit it, you can always reach out to the golf shop to help facilitate your renewal if you have any questions.

Irrigation Shut Down

With irrigation shut down in the southeast Kelowna corridor, the fall irrigation pressurization will begin on October 18th and is expected to be completed by October 20th. Please keep in mind that this process, while necessary and unavoidable, will cause on-course noise disruption. Unfortunately, with the immense size of the compressor needed to pressurize the entire irrigation system, it is not possible to stop the process as golfers are playing on the hole. Irrigation pressurization is also an integral part of the annual fall maintenance program. Thank you once more for your understanding during this critical maintenance process.

Respectfully,
Gilles Dufort

Hole #4 Renovations

With the renovations on hole #4 completed, THGC is delighted with the end results of this tee expansion.

This change may provide slightly different playing characteristics and change the visual aesthetic of this already challenging par 3. tee walls have been laid down with bluegrass, and the tee boxes are laid with bent grass (same as other tees, fairways as greens). By the time of this writing, the process of laying sod is near completion; As the sod has been recently laid down, we would like to respectfully ask you to avoid walking on the tee box and the surrounding areas where sod has been laid as it will not root until next season. Any foot traffic on this newly sodded blue and bent grass will severely hinder the new turfs' ability to root for the coming season.

Reminder

SignNow

The Harvest Golf Club has been continuing to change to help reduce our carbon footprint. THGC will use a program called SignNow for all of its fillable forms. These forms will be received by email and are valid. If you receive one of these forms, please check your junk email, as some filters will file this in that folder. SignNow is very secure and is very similar to DocuSign. Many courses across Canada currently use this program.
